

“Let Your Fingers Do the Walking”

The old Yellow Pages. Some remember them well. Some have no idea what a “Phone Book” even was. The Yellow Pages were a printed telephone directory of businesses in a local area, which was organized by categories and provided their addresses and phone numbers. The slogan, “Let your fingers do the walking,” was created to encourage residents to flip through the directory (provided free of charge) to find (and contact!) businesses in their area.

Even though the Yellow Pages is a thing of the past, fellow Christian, we still need to let our fingers do the walking. They can walk through the contacts on your phone to find brothers and sisters in Christ who could use a phone call or a text. They can walk across your keyboard to find Bible study materials to share with those who need the gospel. They can walk through the church directory to find opportunities for daily prayers.

What can your fingers do to help you serve the Lord and His people this week?
